“ Kelly Ann, the light of anyone's bad day. And good day. She knew life wasn't perfect and she took pride in knowing she wasn't either. Her laugh, a sound I miss dearly. She always said she loved you before she ended a phone call. A soul so vibrant and colorful, she'll always be here with us.

I would see her across the street working at swampers and we would go chat with her to get away from working at the restaurant.

I will see you again, love. Until then, watch over us. We will do good for you and cherish the memories you've blessed us with<3

“ I have fond memories of having Kelly in science classes several times and enjoying her fun spirit and infectious laugh. Even after she wasn't my student anymore, she would stop in just to visit and chat. I always enjoyed our chats and catching up about what was going on in our lives. You couldn't help but smile and chuckle when Kelly was around.

“ I remember Kelly coming into the store with her snake and scaring the hell out of Kristy. She would come in and talk about her pets and how she would sneak them in without mom knowing. Always happy and smiling. I'll miss you Kelly.

“ I'll never forget the day I was dropping you off at your home. You told me to wait for a minute. Next thing I know. You came running out of your house with a snake in your hands. We sat in my truck for a long time playing with your snake.

Thanks for making sure I always got some of your Moms pumpkin rolls. Yummy

I Love you Kelly.

“ I remember when I first moved to Charlotte and started school at CHS, Kelly was in my gym class and introduced herself to me. Later on we kept talking and found out we had many things in common. We talked every day in that gym class, never had a dull moment, in the middle of the year I was upset and Kelly asked what was wrong and gave me a hug, told me everything will be alright. I'll never forget that. Love you Kelly.
