“Burl Quick. You married my dearest best friend and made her so happy, when you weren't making her mad. You welcomed me like family and quickly became Uncle Burl to my kids. I pray that I will hold my memories with you always. Sharing so many New Year eves, dinners, euchre games, BBQs, birthdays and even holidays. Our talks in the basement over a smoke. My first Ozzfest with you and Mary and how your driving on the freeway scared the * out of me! The way you took care of Mary. I pray that you've found one another again 🙏 I just can't believe that you're both gone. I will keep faith that I'll see you again some day, my friends.

“I am so blessed to have called you a friend. Thank you for loving my best friend and showing her what it is to have a partner. The trip to New Orleans and the swamp day are some of my favorite memories with you. When I lost my mom and dad you gave me the calm support and friendship I needed so badly in that moment. We had so many more memories to make! So many more trips to take! But I know since Mary passed your heart was really with her and now you are truly at rest. I know you two are happy to be reunited. I hope you are eating a big bowl of Apple Jacks and smiling down on us. Until we meet again my friend. <3

“ So many memories of his sense of humor! One that stands out was one night at the bowling alley when he came out of the bathroom with his hand wrapped in ridiculous amounts of toilet paper and said " this is how you girls use toilet paper ". And he always used to randomly say " your mom's here " when we were at the bar.

“ One of my favorite memories of Burl was at his sister's, Joenia's cancer fundraiser. I kept upping the bid for a fishing trip. I ended up getting one but didn't want to go. I was bidding against him. So, I gave it to him. 💖
