“ I could never ask for a better patient than Charles. Charles was not one of the most talkative patients, but something about the way he spoke made me remember the conversations. I can still here his voice saying "high doc." I wish I could have done more to help him. I'm going to plant Celebrity tomatoes next spring just that way he told me too - In his memory.

“ It was such a blessing to visit with this wonderful, friendly gentleman whenever I would stop at his house on my way home from work for garden fresh produce. It's rare to meet someone so warm and friendly and engage in great conversation over just a few zucchini or sack of beets. He will be remembered fondly and missed every time I drive past his house. Praying for the family.
