Clarinda "Cindy" May Munro, a faithful servant to the Lord, died on Tuesday, June 4, 2024, at Sparrow Hospital. Cindy, 78, of Olivet, was born on January 5, 1946, in Albion, the daughter of Robert and Olive (Howard) Thompson. On June 8, 1974, Cindy married Lawrence Munro and together they spent the next 44 years creating lasting memories until his passing in 2019. She was a very devout Catholic who was very active at St. Mary Catholic Church in Charlotte. Cindy was the luncheon lady, she helped coordinate all the funeral luncheons at the church. Cindy was retired from the post office. She was also a farmer, as she worked alongside her husband on the farm for several years until their health started to decline. Cindy enjoyed watching county westerns, attending family reunions, flea markets, auctions, talking on the phone, sewing, and taking family trips to Kentucky or Marquette. Above all, Cindy loved her family, especially spending time with her grandchildren.

Cindy is survived by her daughters, Paula Randall, and Sandra (Timothy) McCarn; grandchildren, Alisha (David) Fisher, Tanner (Kate) McCarn, Tate (Megan) McCarn, Sydney McCarn, and Taven McCarn; great-grandchildren, Spencer, Karson, and Karter. “ I worked at the church sitting up funeral luncheons. Cindy and I would always figure out a way to make people happy with the service. She cared so much that everything was perfect for the lunch. RIP Cindy “ Pam and Pat Hennessey remember when Aunt Cindy and Sandy came to visit us one summer in Fort Wayne, Indiana. It was shortly after we were married. Pat told her about the 5 foot dandelion that grew by our house. Cindy laughed and told Pat he was quite a jokester. Aunt Cindy talked about that story every time we met for reunions.
