“ Fr. Francis was kind, gentle of heart, non-judgmental, soft spoken and his homilies touched the hearts and lives of the people of St. Andrew. He was not lofty, but human and approachable. We loved his smile, his sense of humor and his laughter. On a personal note, on Halloween last year I decided to dress up as an Episcopalian priest. Before doing so, I got Fr. Francis's approval. I sent photos of myself in costume via Facebook messenger. The following Sunday he came up to me and inquired if I would like to preach the homily. We both laughed! I will miss him, his welcoming presence, his homilies, his smiles and his sense of humor. May the angels welcome you to paradise, Fr. Francis. May the martyrs lead you on your way! May you see the face of the Lord this day! Alleluia, Alleluia!

“ Father Francis was a wonderful pastor. We shared a special connection when he noticed my husband had a Denison University shirt on at Mass. Our daughter attended school there. Father Francis explained he was from Newark, Ohio next door to Grandville where Denison is located, It was those small moments of connection that made Father Francis a very special man. We will miss his presence and kindness. The Fischer Family.
