“ Jenny, Sandy, and I took many road trips together over the years. We always told each other not to get more fabric; we had enough. We were supposed to remind each other. It never worked. We all loved our girl over nights and crafting. We made a maojr mess when we baked our apple pies, but no one ever complained; especially Jenny. She saved our children from parental neglect so many times. Her wise advice and reasonable head was what kept me on track as I sought her advice in parenting. We always said, " I love you," after we said, "good bye." Her friendship and loyalty has been a life treasure. She has been my beacon and my mentor; my muse. My heart is heavy with sadness, yet the hapiness Jenny brought to our family will always be beyond measure. Although she is gone ffrom this life, she has made a very powerful impact in the lives of so many. I will never forget her.
