“ I'm so sorry to see that your dad past. When I seen the EMT's there the other night I feared the worse. He was a great man and we had always thought so much of him. When he use to go for his walks we always watch to make sure he made it back to the house okay. We have no say over these things sometimes you wonder why but I know there is a reason it is just sometimes it is hard to understand why. Sometimes it just don't seem fair. I know I'm still trying to understand why. So sorry I can't be there I have another service at the same time to go to. Just wanted to say I'm thinking of you and know how hard this time is.
