“ Pam, your friendship has been a treasure to me over the years. Although the lapses in time grew longer between meetings, it is one of very few that has endured the decades. Some of the memories have become faded with the years that have gone by, some are as vivid as if from only yesterday. You started your family before I did, providing a glimpse of the father my own husband to be would become not long after. I remember many a round of euchre, once you finally taught me the difference being a bower made to a jack. Some memories best not be mentioned, even though the statute of limitations has certainly long since expired. I wish you Sweet Heavenly Peace from the health issues that you suffered with over the years. I wish you sweet joy and peace of mind from the heartaches you endured. My prayers will go out to those you had to leave behind. You were so loved. I will sincerely miss you Pam, no matter any distance, your friendship was always close to my heart, and I will carry it with me always...until we meet again.
