“ I can't think of too many people who has supported the band any more than Dick did. He made every effort to bring Char out dancing, when it was at all possible to do so. If the music was a little too loud he made sure that he mentioned it . . . and we knew that if Dick said something about it, then it deserved attention. On the other hand, he would be quick to say that everything sounded good as well. From the first time I met Dick and Char, there was an instant friendship started. I have enjoyed each and every visit that I have had with the both of them. I will truly miss my visits with Dick out in the garage or in the dining room.
