“ As a fan of the show, my fave episodes were those of Tressa. I always thought she was beautiful and smart and had the same spice as me. I am sorry to learn that she passed away and is almost the same age as myself and 2 of my sisters. Too young!!! May she be resting in peace ”

“ Tressa was my oldest daughter. My son passed away 4 years ago. He was such a dynamic part of our family and I think Tressa was never able to get over the pain of losing her brother. She had been l'll for the last couple years at only age 34. She was such a vibrant person and had her own unique type of personality! She was always so giving. Although her and I bummed heads at times it was only out of love because we wanted the best for each other and our family!! Her kids were her life and when she got l'll she had so much quilt that she was not able to do some things with them. Tressa seemed hard headed at times but it was out of love! I'm carrying a lot of quilt and my heart is shattered! I've lived with her for several years although I have an apartment of my own. Now I wake up every morning alone and the tears just flow! I don't know how to live without her! And her kids 14 and 7 are so broken hearted and her 14 year old feels quilt cuz she says she should have been a better daughter!! She was a great daughter and it breaks my heart for her to feel that way. The 7 year old is now living with his dad who is doing a super job! We are so grateful for him. I just don't know how to go on anymore!! RIP Tressa. I love u so very much! Please forgive me for the mistakes I made!! I always loved u unconditionally! !
