

William Bradford Kellogg

February 24, 1952 - May 22, 2025

William "Cowboy" Bradford Kellogg, a man who "cared hard," died May 22, 2025. William, 73, of Potterville, was born February 24, 1952, in Lansing. William was a loyal and hardworking man with strong ethic. He worked as the shop supervisor for 34 years at Inco Graphics in Mason and also at Charlotte Cabinet for 15 years. Known as "Cowboy" he was often see in a pearl snap shirt, Wrangler jeans, and cowboy boots. He would have been well suited in the horse and buggy days.

William was a Dallas Cowboys football fan, a golfer, and loved going to the camper at Snow Lake Kampground. He enjoyed Miller Lite and John Wayne westerns. He was a man who knew how to have fun, but could also teach, if you listened to him. William always made sure that his family was taken care of. He was always worried or concerned about everyone else. He will be long remembered as a "good man." At times he was meticulous in completing a project, taking time to plan, talk, and then finally getting to work.

William is survived by his wife, Stacy; son, Christopher (Casondra); grandchildren, Trisha (Ken), Nicholas (Tammy), Abigail, Nathan, Calvin, Catherine, Carolynn, Chloe, Carmen, Charity, and Christiana; great-grandchildren, Zaylee, Gracealyn, Aiden, Madison, and Shauna Lea; and special friends Bill and Mary Tressel, Matt and Amy Fletcher, and Cheryl Curtin. Kellogg and stepmother Ilene.
